A black and white portrait of a middle-aged man with a beard and mustache, wearing a dark suit jacket, a light-colored striped shirt, and a dark tie with a small pattern. He is smiling slightly and looking towards the camera. The background is a plain, light color.

Dear Friends,
I am writing this with thanks to God and to you for all the prayers and blessings
and wonderful

I did not, thank God, have a heart attack. I felt no pain or discomfort, in fact I've been feeling better than I have for years. I did not have a "cardiac event". But I could have. And I have been asking God why I didn't. What have I done to merit escaping that fate?

I wasn't in good physical shape, so the stress for the test was injected into me. I cannot think of a better way of making lots of money than selling my stress to a pharmaceutical company to use in stress tests. Where do I sign up? But this time, having been on keto for over half a year, I was feeling great, and opted for the treadmill stress test. And I was amazed

I'm happy to share with anyone who is interested what I have learned about keto, metabolism, diet, exercise, etc. I'm following this all religiously, but I haven't found many converts, especially in my own family! So, I'll follow Rabbi Hillel's advice from a few thousand years ago, IM EIN ANI LI MI LI- If I am not for myself, who will be for me, and unless I'm asked about it, I'll keep it to myself!

But it is a diet that is quickly catching on, and it costs nothing more than not being on a diet, and it doesn't require any monthly payments or supplements.

And it brought me to two very important eye-opening issues. First, why did I get off so easy? I've visited so many people through the years who have suffered- really suffered with heart problems. I've tried to bring comfort to so many families who have lost loved ones to cardiac events. Why was I not only given a pass, with major blockages that weren't revealed by my clinical numbers, but when it came to repairing the damage, it barely affected me? The biggest issue during that hospital stay was that the nurses kept waking me up as soon as I dozed off because my heart rate was going low and it set off an alarm at the nurse's station! I even found the bed comfortable!

I know from the Torah that in spite of amazing miracles happening for the Jewish people, our reaction to them has been to complain. Immediately after crossing the Red Sea, and seeing our pursuers drown in the water behind us, the very first thing the Israelites did was to complain to Moses that there was no water to drink. And the complaints have continued to this day. We seem to ignore the miracles and focus only on what's going wrong.

I can't ignore this miracle. Every time someone emailed or texted or called or visited me with wishes and prayers for a speedy recovery I felt that these blessings were misplaced. I was feeling great- the day before the procedure and the day after. Surely these kind, beautiful, heartfelt thoughts should be sent to someone more worthy of them. Now, of course, I milked the situation at home, saying I wasn't supposed to lift anything (like the trash bags, for example) and am hoping to get a letter from my cardiologist attesting to that for a year at least! But in general, I truly feel that I was saved and I simply don't get why.

come into the room to offer kind words. It's one thing seeing people outside of the Temple when I'm not wearing a tie. It's completely different when I'm not wearing anything! And I realized how often I visited people in the hospital without once stopping to think about their vulnerability in that situation. I know that anyone who does Bikkur Cholim, visiting the sick, brings some comfort and a friendly smile to someone in need. It's considered one of the greatest Mitzvot in Jewish tradition.

But I now have a new perspective on it. Am I invading privacy? Should I knock or just walk in? Is this a good time to visit? Are my questions invasive? Is this a bad time? Is this person thinking, "When is he going to leave so I can get more comfortable?" So, I want to take this opportunity as the days of repentance get nearer, to apologize to any of you, or your loved ones or friends, that I have made uncomfortable during a visit. And at the same time, I want to reiterate my thanks and appreciation for all the prayers and blessings I have received.

As we prepare for the High Holy Days, days of repentance and days of hope, staring at that Book of Life ahead of us, let us resolve to enhance and be thankful for not only our own lives, but the lives of everyone we touch. Amen.

A Revival of TNG-2

Fifteen years ago, in 2005/5766, under the leadership of then President Atty. David Schwager, the lesser-known sibling of the successful TNG dues program was created. TNG 2 focused on increasing participation in Temple Israel services. This commitment was not based on dues or other financial obligations, but rather on increased attendance and participation.

As we approach 2020/5780, it is imperative that we revive the "TNG 2" program during these tumultuous times and renew our commitment to our synagogue community. These shared experiences will create new connections, strengthen our spiritual foundation and ensure that the ties that bind us, namely, our Jewish heritage, are unbreakable.

I ask each and every member, regardless of your current dues or membership status, to commit to one of the TNG 2 levels of participation in the coming year.

Fifteen years ago, I was not in the position to participate in the TNG membership initiative. However, TNG 2 was a welcome alternative. It was a personal investment that continues to reap rewards for me and my family, both spiritually and communally.

In the coming weeks you will be receiving a mailer describing the various TNG 2 opportunities. Please select, engage, and invest in TNG 2 - The Next Generation.

V.P. Congregational Engagement

from Cantor

Our great sages were practical as well as pious. Aware of human nature and tolerances, they developed our practices and rituals in ways that people would be able to and want to observe. Realizing that we cannot jump right into the High Holidays without preparation, they designated the month of Elul as a time for spiritual introspection, a time to begin the process of granting and asking for forgiveness.

There are a number of special rituals added to our minyan services during Elul. These include the blowing of the shofar at the conclusion of the morning service (except on Shabbat), the recitation of Psalm 27 (morning and evening) followed by an extra Mourner's Kaddish, and special penitential prayers called Slichot (varies according to Ashkenazic and Sephardic tradition). It is also a time to "brush up" on your prayer skills, not only reading and singing the text, but comprehending it's meaning as well. Attending weekday and Shabbat services is a great way to get ready for the Yamim Noraim (Days of Awe). An athlete would not run a race or even work out without warming up. It's really the same with prayer.

This year the first of Elul happens to land on September 1. You have a month to prepare yourselves spiritually for Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. I guarantee your experience on the holidays will be enhanced by even a little bit of preparation. To make this easier for you I've posted (as a special feature for the High Holiday season) selections from the Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur liturgy on our website (templewb.org) – selections designed to help you learn some of the melodies for the holiday season. If you'd like additional help, I'm available to get together with you, one on one, to improve your prayer skills.

Make this the year you become more comfortable with Jewish liturgy. It will strengthen your Jewish identity and nourish your soul!

Carole and I wish you a Shanah Tovah Umetukah, a Good and Sweet New Year!

-Cantor

Carole and I would like to thank all of you for your words of comfort and contributions in memory of her beloved mother, Norma. May her memory be for a blessing.

Midrasha Happenings

Midrasha is starting its third year as a combined school. The school board and teachers are happy to welcome Rabbi Eric Mollo, Rabbi at Temple B'nai Brith, as principal. This year Gerri Kaplan will be school Administrator and Kindergarten teacher.

Both Rabbi Mollo and Gerri have been busy meeting with our teachers, working on the calendar and planning a wonderful year for all our students. Friday night and Shabbat morning services have been planned where the students will be an integral part of the service, as well as their parents who are also encouraged to take part with their children.

Once again we will have a Hebrew High School for students in 8th to 11th grades. Classes will be divided between combined 8th and 9th grade students and combined 10th and 11th. Confirmation for the 10th and 11th grade students will be held in the Spring at Shavuot time. Also, an end of year trip is being planned for both classes. Classes will be taught by Rabbi Mollo, Rabbi Kaplan and by Lou Marcus. We are looking forward to a wonderful year at Midrasha.

Bat Mitzvah of Olivia Yelen Saturday, September 21st, 10:00 a.m.

Hi! My name is Olivia Yelen and I go to the Wyoming Valley West Middle School. In school I like to stay active by participating in activities and groups such as Executive Board and National Junior Honors Society. I also play soccer and run track, but I mostly play field hockey, for which I recently received the honor of being named Captain of the Junior High team! I have been working hard these past months leading up to my special day. I would love for you to join me and my family as I am called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah!

Bat Mitzvah of Naomi Wharton Saturday, September 28th, 10:00 a.m.

Hello, I'm Naomi Wharton. My parents are Shelly Lebenson and Richard Wharton. I have two dogs that I love very much, Maggie and Roscoe. I also attend the Valley Middle School in Sugarloaf. My favorite and only sport is softball and I've been playing for 7 years now. For my Bat-Mitzvah project I am going to be donating supplies to the SPCA. Since I was a little girl, I've loved dogs. Becoming a Bat-Mitzvah means a lot to me and my grandparents! I would be delighted if you would join me and my family on my special day.

All levels of Yoga experience are welcome. Please wear comfortable clothing. Some mats are available, but please bring a yoga mat and blocks or bring a towel.

From the President...

As Summer nears its end we can look back at what our Temple has accomplished over the last couple of months. As everyone is aware, in mid-July we moved out of our School Building and into our new surroundings at the Friedman JCC. Downsizing is not easy, and we have many people to thank for our very successful move. Jane Messinger oversaw the coordinated timing for the physical move and Rabbi and Cantor packed their many books and sorted items to be disposed or to be taken to our new offices or to the Synagogue. Joel Zitofsky directed the disassembly and transfer of our shelving from the Library and Rabbi's office to new uses at the Temple and Friedman JCC. Mark Finkelstein spent many hours helping transport our office equipment and supplies to our new offices and Dan Messinger spent countless hours at the School Building overseeing the constant moving of our building accessories. Thank you all for a job well done!

During August our ushers, under the leadership of Ann Smith, met and are updating their responsibilities to include added security protocols; while at the same time our Security Committee, under the chairmanship of Hal Levine, has met and reviewed updated High Holiday security. Our biggest challenge is to maintain a safe and secure Synagogue while at the same time being welcome and comfortable for our members. Many thanks to our chairpersons and their committees for keeping us safe and secure!

Also during August our Worship Committee, chaired by Debbie Troy, has spent many hours coordinating our High Holiday schedule and contacting the people who will receive honors during the services. It is not an easy task, as not all people offered honors will accept them. Thank you all for making our services special and meaningful.

As we look forward to High Holiday services, Bedonna and I wish everyone a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year.

-Joe Mitchneck
